

Law of Mentality for the New Earth:

I experience your inner light and am grateful for your existence.

I experience your care for Oneness and the immediate environment, and I gratefully accept the impact of your life.

I experience that your intelligence works for the common good of all living things, which touches me, thus my heart supports you.

I experience that you appreciate me and cherish my unique entity and my unique being. No one is like me.

I sense your good intentions, and I support your sincere efforts.

I experience your acceptance of a voluntary responsibility, and that you deal with it in an ethical and empathic way.

I experience your helpfulness, and I am grateful for the freedom it creates for everyone in the All.

I am happy that it is possible to be accommodating without losing myself or my values.

I experience joy from the fact that you dare to be quiet, patient and reflective.

I experience that you strengthen the best in yourself and your community, and that you tenderly dare to take my hand.

I experience joy and depth of wisdom in the fact that you appreciate your origins and that together we live out the purpose of mankind.

I experience that everyone gives and receives, and thereby it is possible to remain secure in humility and moderation.

I experience that, actually, we accept and generously share abundance, joy and success.

I experience freedom in being loving and embracing.

I experience freedom in being authentic.

I experience your goodness and mercy, which makes me feel secure regarding the future, and calm regarding the past.

I experience your wish and your will to be the one you have come here to be, in Oneness as well as in yourself, and that you tenderly create the space for others to be able to do the same – perhaps together with you.

I experience a fundamental peace and deep wisdom through knowing you.

I experience that we are connected, and that you dare to receive the same from me, and thus I feel appreciated and always welcome in life.

I experience that you are me.

I am grateful that we are all One.

I am deeply happy that the Universe is backing me up.

Life is welcoming and magic.

(🪄 Try to exchange “I” with “You” or “We”, and meditate on this multi-level mindset).
